Upland, California

Election filing period opens

Anyone who would like to become an Upland City Councilman or City Clerk can file his or her nomination paper starting tomorrow, Thursday, official opening of filing period for the April 9 municipal election.

There are two council seats to be filled, a position of city clerk and city treasurer. Two incumbent councilmen, George Gibson and Ronald (Mike) Rossiter have announced that they will seek re-election for second four-year terms.

Mrs. Dorris Magruder, who was appointed to fill out the current term of City Clerk, will not seek re-election. She plans to move to Palm Springs later in the spring where her husband is the Chevrolet dealer.

Treasurer is Robert Thrall, CPA, of Thrall & Reardon, Accountants.

In order to be officially nominated for the election, a would-be candidate must secure the signature of at least five, but not more than 10 electors (registered voters).

Filing deadline is Thursday, Feb. 15. That is also the final date on which voters may register to cast a ballot in the city election.

Anyone who has moved, has changed a name, who was registered but did not vote in the last general election,

Mayor may be home soon

Mayor James Christensen, although not hale is hearty, and doing so well at Kaiser Hospital that he will probably be home this week.

He is suffering discomfort from the cracked vertebrae and ribs, result of this Jan. 13 auto accident near Delano.

He is walking around the hospital.

The mayor expressed his deep appreciation for all the expressions of concern he has received. He said he had never seen so many cards, letters and flowers.

tion, or who has never been registered, must appear before a deputy registrar to become an elector.

Absentee ballots may be requested between March 11 and April 2. Deadline for turning them in is 5 p.m., Monday, April 8, day before the election.

Upland's ballot will have, in addition to the offices mentioned, a referendum measure concerning the Santa Fe Rail spur in the Foothill Knolls area.

Feb. 9 is the final day on which arguments on a ballot question may be filed.

Candidates for office may make arrangements with the City Clerk's office to have mailed out with sample ballots statements of their candidacy, for which there is a charge to cover costs incurred in the printing and mailing.

Class size said No. 1 problem

Class size is the number one concern of teachers in both the Upland Teachers Association and California Teachers Association, the UTA pointed out in a letter to Vern Orum, Superintendent of Upland Elementary School District.

The letter from Mrs. Valerie Longfellow, UTA president, made a special point of class size being of prime importance.

The other three most pressing educational problem areas were adequate instructional materials, assignment of extra duties and pupil discipline.

The four problem areas were numbered in that order in results of the CTA's statewide all-member opinion survey conducted last August.

Mrs. Longfellow said a poll of Upland School District reflected a similar attitude.

Copies of her letter to the superintendent were sent to the Board of Trustees of the District also.

CONQUERED BY CABORCA -- last week end, Uplanders paid a visit to Upland's sister city, and are eager to go back again. Five who made the trip, (l-r) are E. Harvey Stone, Councilman Max Hawkins, Frank Carpenter, Mrs.

Hawkins, and Mrs. Carpenter. Councilman Zella Stone, right, chairman of the Town Affiliation Committee, saw them off.

Attitudes raise question:

Does Upland actually want some industry?

Does Upland really want industry? If so, a change in attitude toward industry would be a big help.

That was one of the straight-forward messages voiced by three industrial development men Monday noon at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon at the Upland Inn.

The trio (a fourth was felled by flu) were Robert Hauptli of Santa Fe Railway, Jack Geschelder of Bank of America, and Ken Worthen of Southern California Gas Co. F.W. Rohring of Southern California Edison was the flu victim.

Worthen led off the panel, commenting on Upland's attitude toward industry, "cool to negative."

The next three of five years are the most important, Worthen said. "Flip service and effort don't count, only results, and it all starts with attitude."

People who don't want industry probably picture an old dirty smokestack, it was pointed out, and the 60 people present were advised to view a foundry in Pomona if they wanted to see how clean a modern "dirty" industry can be.

Hauptli touched on the transportation angle, and equated Upland's transportation facilities with the usual Southern California city, but the railroads help locate five or six industries in Cucamonga a year, none in Upland.

"It all relates to attitude," Hauptli said.

Geschelder, speaking on political attitudes, said Upland would have to make up its mind what it wants, if it really wants industry.

"How is your attitude about industry that is here now? I hope it's TLC--and I mean really tender loving care," he said.

That industry is battered daily by mail, by phone with entreaties from other places that keep saying "we can serve you better," Geschelder said.

He asked if zoning is compatible with industry, giving local concerns room for expansion.

Is the general plan based on a balanced community. He said the visiting industrial men had found flaws in the general plan. He agreed with Worthen's statement that the city can't grow on increasing the property tax alone.

He also asked if the building code would accept modern plant design, modern materials.

Other points brought out Monday noon--

--Upland's modified mall could be converted to a ghost shopping center if buildings aren't modernized, if the entire community isn't developed with balance.

--There are too few acres of industrial zoned land, about 150, where there should be a minimum of 650 to balance the population Upland will have in a decade or so.

--Industry shouldn't be relegated to undesirable locations.

--The city center can't be allowed to disintegrate. It's going to take tremendous imagination, work, and plain old guts to make it work, not just paint. People have to be able to get in and get out easily. Multiple family dwellings close by would help.

Hal Ballin, Chamber president, mentioned similar requirements for the Town Center, even after beautification has been accomplished.

Ballin said it will take more than a couple of gallons of paint. It will take merchandising, maybe re-training of personnel to give service; the downtown must offer something that is different, in merchandise or service, to attract shoppers.

Fire hits lumber company

The Boyd Lumber Co., 1400 E. Arrow Hwy., Upland, was the scene of a fire Thursday, Jan. 18, causing damage to the building in excess of $1,500, according to Fire Chief Leon Lamphear.

The blaze was confined to the steel and plaster building and was centered around the mill section. Damage to tools destroyed by the heat and fire has not been determined.

Chief Lamphear said, "The blaze was probably caused by a lighted cigarette in a waste basket, as this was the only thing the department could not rule out."

Caborca conquers Upland 'invaders'

Five Uplanders drove to Upland's Sister City Friday on an informal visit to invite a formal visit from officials of Caborca, Sonora, Mexico, and returned with glowing reports about the Mexican city.

"I can't wait to go back," one said.

Caborca is not a border town, in fact, a place where you can't find a souvenir shop, or even a souvenir. In the past six years, Caborca has displayed a spirit of progress equal to Southern California.

During that period, streets have been paved, new schools have been built, about one a year, street lights have been installed, a water filtration plant constructed, and a sewerage system inaugurated.

Caborca has been growing. About 20 years ago, the population was around 4,000, and now it's close to 20,000.

Caborca cotton is well respected for its quality. The area also has cattle and wheat production, and in the future vineyards are expected to add to the economy.

The five Uplanders making the unofficial visit were Councilman and Mrs. Max Hawkins, E. Harvey Stone, Chamber of Commerce representative on the Town Affiliation Committee, and

A new phase in the life of downtown Upland was launched Tuesday night when City Council voted unanimously to follow the wishes of the majority and proceed with work on the Town Center Beautification project.

Protests, including both written and oral, added up to 16.5% of the total property involved in the revitalization district requested by property owners and backed by merchants.

Council, acting as agent for the majority, adopted a series of resolutions accomplishing the culmination of two years of work toward a new era for the downtown district. Included in the resolutions were award of construction contracts and sale of bonds.

Three written protests were received by the City prior to hearing in accordance with state law, but Council took into consideration late written and oral protests, eight in all.

It would have taken a majority protest to prevent Council from following the wishes of the majority.

Before the protest hearing was opened by Ronald (Mike) Rossiter, who was given the chair for the Town Center procedures, he allowed proponents to speak in favor of the project. They did.

Bill Valton, Earl Ammons, Dr. J. Powers, Jack Atwood, Chamber president Hal Ballin, Larry Magnon, John Meyer, Nathan Selk, Dewey Cable, Chamber manager Tony Malone and Ralph Miller each took a turn at speaking for the project.

Valton led the parade stating, "I feel we need the mall. Our economic health depends on it."

Ammons and other agreed. Dr. Powers, owner of the building occupied by Cornet store, said Joe Cornet, his tenant, would go along with a complete renovation of the building.

Jack Atwood, of Atwoods, pointed out that the Revitalization Committee, of which he was a member, did not just pick the one idea that will become reality, but had studied and rejected several.

"This is the best that can be done at a reasonable price," Atwood said.

Charles L. Swanton, owner of two parcels of property, including the Grove Theater, made the strongest vocal protest stating he was not against the mall, but he was against the way the assessment was spread.

Swanton said that other properties not paying into the assessment district, but located right across the street from it, would receive equal benefits without paying a penny.

He tried to interrupt to make more comments during later portions of the proceedings but was ruled out of order after the public hearing was closed.

At one point during the hearing he threatened to "seek an injunction."

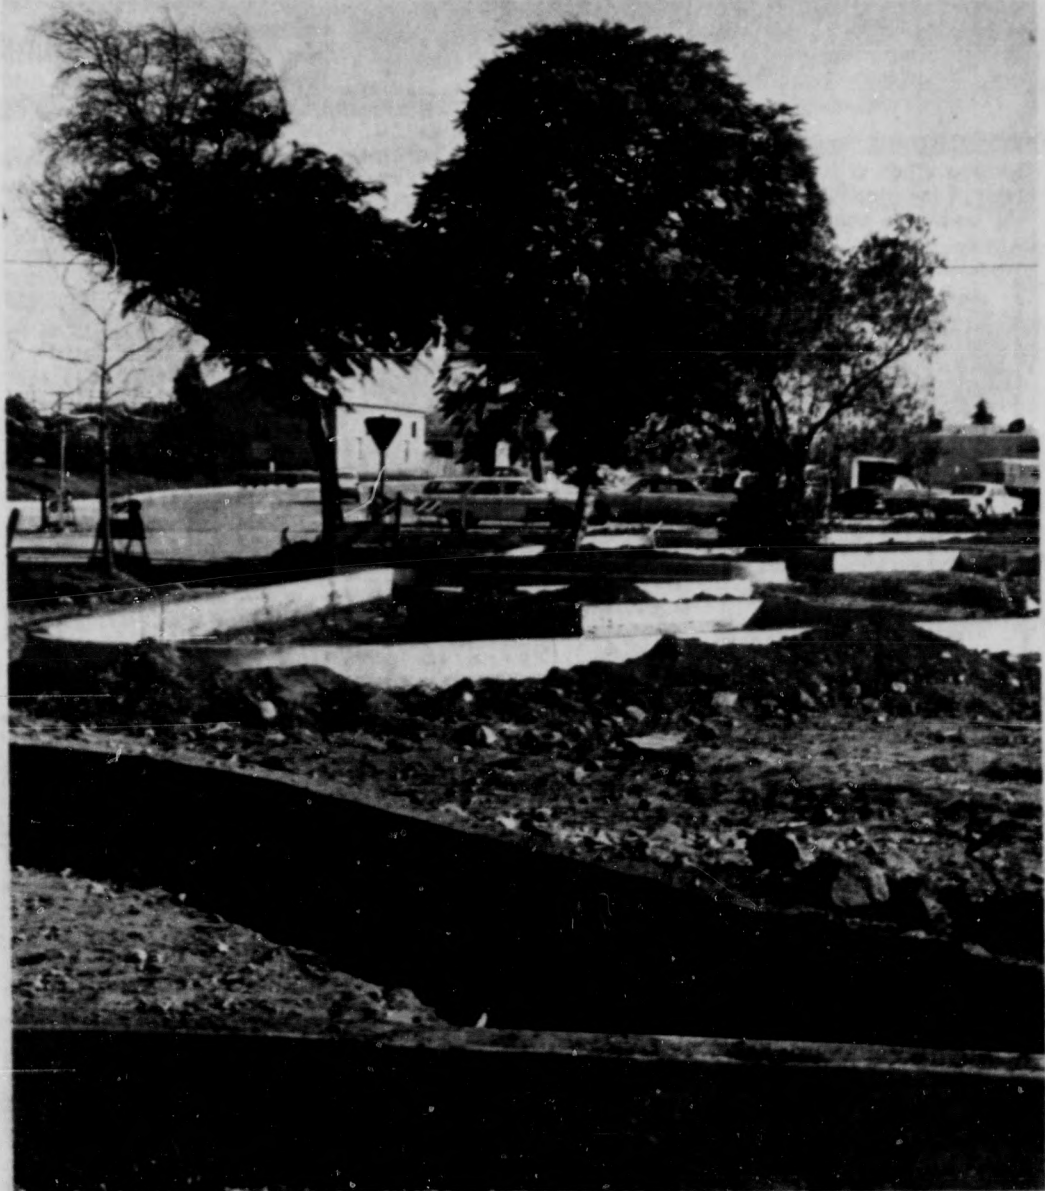

There were six contracts on which bids were received, but actually only four will be awarded, for paving, electrical work, kiosks and benches, and landscaping.

The City will do the work advertised under the other two, installing signs and sprinkling systems.

Low bidders and their contract amounts are Payne and Wheatley, paving, etc., $128,792.35; Gregg Electric, lighting and sound system, $67,649; Charles T. Smith, kiosks and benches, $37,803; and Landscape associates, landscaping, $13,279.40.

City Engineer Fred Blanchard, who has worked with the project since it began, informed Council that the city could install the signs and sprinkling systems at a saving to the District because those are jobs that city crews do regularly.

The low bidder on the signs is a sign supply company that Blanchard said would prefer to just sell the signs and let the city install them. (Continued on page 4)

PATTERNS OF PROGRESS -- formed by curbs in parking lot under construction at Third and C, one of the new parking improvements surrounding the downtown area, which should make it easy for shoppers to park and do business in a revitalized downtown.

NEW HOME -- getting the once-over from two Upland firefighters, Clyde C. Koontz, left, and George Melenderez, were pictured surveying the footing of the new headquarters fire station at Second and Arrow. It will replace old station built in 1913. Fire headquarters and Library are first increments of new Civic Center, both now under construction.

Town Center

The low sign bid was $3,-635. Sprinkling system bid was $13,299.90, which the city can reduce by using its own crews and charging the district cost only on installation.

The four bids awarded add up to $247,523.75. Total of the six low bids was $264,-458.65.

Part of the work in the Payne-Wheatley paving bid will also be done by the city, to which P-W agreed.

Actual date of start of construction was not set. Work is underway on parking lots surrounding the town center area, which extends on Second Ave. from A to C Sts., and on Ninth St. from First to Third Aves., while street work has begun on the streets encircling the town center project.

Low bidder on the bonds was Crowell-Weedon & Co., of Los Angeles, who submitted the lone bid of 95.125% of par with interest of 6%.

City serves notice on junk cars

First reading was given an ordinance Tuesday night to give the city authority to do something about abatement and removal of junk cars.

That includes vehicles that are abandoned, wrecked, dismantled or inoperative, on either public or private property, unless they are inside a building or behind a six-foot solid fence.

It does not affect a lawful business that works with such vehicles.

Council in its ordinance set up procedures for public hearings on abatement of nuisance vehicles, with notices to interested parties at least 10 days before the hearing.

Cars sold as advertised--at $4.99 each

It may be hard to believe, but it really happened--Skycrest Ford sold a couple of cars for less than $5, as advertised.

Some people may think there's something wrong when a dealer puts a $25 coupon in an ad and then advertises cars at $29.99, as Skycrest did, but Skycrest sold a 1963 Ford and a 1966 DeSoto and a 1969 Mercury for $4.99 each.

Upland firm gets Thai job

Ludwig Engineering and Science of Upland has been awarded a $2.7 million contract for civil engineering construction in Thailand--the first venture for the Southern California company in that country, it was announced today by Carl C. Pascal, president.

The government contract, awarded in December, established the Ludwig firm "responsible for technical direction and supervision of the project," according to Pascal.

"This marks our initial visit to Thailand and it is expected to lead to a continuing program there," Gordon W. Ludwig, vice president of the company in charge, stated.

The project is a joint venture with a Thai company the United Mechanical Company LTD., of Bangkok.

The Ludwig firm has long been recognized as an international authority in the field of water pollution and water supply.

An earlier story released by Ludwig listed a third firm which is not a member of the joint venture.

Dr. Russell described Caborca as a very clean, thriving city.

Correction

The local March of Dimes organization met recently at the Upland Inn, but the publicity released by the organization credited "a local bakery" and a "local dairy" with furnishing the food, which in fact was furnished by the Upland Inn.

Jerry's Journal

by JERRY PETTIS
CONGRESSMAN, 33rd Dist.

As we answered the first quorum call of the new year in Congress, I was aware of a mood of rising hope among my colleagues. This year we believe we can and will enact sensible solutions for the 70's! We made a promising start last year; and the mood here is that we'll achieve more this year.

Those 1966 elections restored some balance in the House of Representatives. Next November the people will express themselves in one of the most important elections in the history of the United States.

One of our jobs in Congress is to assure in advance that this year's elections will be honest, clean and orderly.

Early this year we have to defuse the summer riots before they start! We must make our streets and our homes safe.

Last year we gave unstinting support to the requirements of our military forces. Although we prodded the Administration for better management of the war, our economy measures were not directed at defense spending.

This year we can cut more fat out of non-defense spending than we did last year, when we saved 2 billion dollars. This year we should save many more billions of dollars in non-defense spending. That's the best way to fight inflation, and we don't have time to put off economizing. Economies must be made and we won't need to shortchange our boys in uniform either.

Before coming to Washington to represent you in Congress, I thought private industry could do just about anything better than the Federal Government. After my experiences here, I am more certain than ever that private industry can do just about everything better than the Federal Government.

Along this line, I'd like to see tax credits given to private industry for certain on-the-job training programs.

The better program, within private industry, would place trainees on new or improved jobs after the training period. The trainees would stay and rise within the company. In many cases the federal programs have trained people for jobs that didn't exist! This has been an ineffective and wasteful use of tax dollars.

If Congress is going to maintain its new strength - and last year's Congress was not anybody's rubber stamp - and if Congress is going to win back the respect of the people - Congress will have to improve its moral tone, and beef up its ability to act as a check on the power of the Executive Branch.

This year, 1968, should be a good year for effective legislation here on Capitol Hill. I'm confident that Congress has new vigor, new direction, new practical solutions, to solve the awesome problems facing the United States.

Concert Association lists exciting and varied performances

The Upland-Ontario Community Concert Association recently held its first board meeting of the new year. W. Campbell Nelson, president of the Association, welcomed the board members and officers. This year the Association has teamed husbands and wives as board members. The purpose of the meeting was to formulate plans for the 1968-69 Membership Campaign of Community Concerts.

Roy Cooper, Columbia Artists representative outlined the plans for the forthcoming campaign which will be held in April. Captains will be assigned workers by April 1st.

Memberships will remain the same; $7 for adults and $3.50 for students. Ruth Long Wheeler was introduced as general membership chairman and she will be assisted by her sister Gladys Long Graham.

Holds for three outstanding concerts for the 1968-69 season were voted on by officers and board members. The following concerts will be presented pending confirmation from the New York office: THE DON SHIRLEY TRIO, piano and two bass violins - one of the top most musical ensembles in the field of classical jazz today.

Don Shirley and the musical art forms he creates with improvisations of music, are unique in the concert world.

Discerning musicians, the press and most important of all, the public, have all paid tribute to Don Shirley. He is destined to revolutionize the popular forms of music with his piano improvisations.

The Columbus Boychoir America's Singing Boys of Princeton, N. J., originated as a community enterprise in Columbus, Ohio in 1940.

They made their metropolitan debut in Town Hall in 1943.

Annual sell-out tours which carried the choir to packed houses throughout the United States and Canada endeared the boys to millions.

The boys have sung with the New York Philharmonic, the Philadelphia Orchestra, the NBC Symphony under Toscanini and the Bach Aria Group.

Television has featured the Boychoir on such shows as "Omnibus", Steve Allen, Arthur Godfrey and The Bell Telephone Hour. They have toured Europe and the Orient.

THE ORCHESTRA MICHELANGELO DI FIRENZE was a request from several board members for a report performance. The Orchestra Michelangelo di Firenze was so well received by the concert goers, that a number on the board asked to have the Orchestra appear here again. They presented a concert in Ontario, November 1966.

The Orchestra Michelangelo di Firenze is composed of members who were drawn from the most gifted orchestral musicians of central Italy. The Orchestra brings noble musicianship to its music making.

The repertoire for the ensemble is virtually endless from the great Italian composers to the literature of Handel, Haydn, Mozart, Mendelssohn, Tchaikovsky and Dvorak.

More detailed plans for the Membership Drive and the Kick-off dinner will be outlined at the next meeting of the board. Attending the meeting were: Mr. and Mrs. W. Campbell Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Brockway, first vice-presidents; Mrs. F.A. Maurer, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Jones, campaign secretary; Robert Jones treasurer; Mrs. D. Cason Mast, publicity chairman; D. Cason Mast board member; Mrs. Steve L. De Ambrogio, Miss Margaret Kritzman, Mrs. Cesare Val, Mrs. Fern Reiser, William B. Blanchard, Robert Lucier, George Duerr, Carl Schafer, Clifford Pence, Mrs. Bruce Claffin, Dean J. Bruington, Mrs. Merle Yoder, George Elser, Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Sanford, Miss Lucile Majors, Mrs. Elizabeth Kugler, Miss Bess Roberts.

American Legion to dedicate new quarters

Upland Unit 73, American Legion Auxiliary recently held their first meeting of the new year at the home of Mrs. Elsie Wesp, 1459 North Euclid Ave., Upland.

During the meeting, Americanism chairman Mrs. Helen Rogers recommended "Firing Line" as an excellent patriotic magazine. Mrs. Ethel Marsh moved that the Auxiliary order two subscriptions - one for Upland High School and one for Upland Public Library.

Legislative chairman Mrs. Adelaide Plum asked members to write to Senators Thomas Kuchel and George Murphy in support of Bill HR 12555. The bill deals with increasing the amount of payment of G.I. pensions and parents' dependency and indemnity compensation.

Members were urged to respond to the invitation issued by the Upland Legion Post 73 to attend the dedication of the Post's new clubhouse. The clubhouse is located on Mt. Baldy Rd., above San Antonio Dam.

how is your rib roast trimmed?

That depends upon where you buy it.

At A&P, we sell only short-cut, 7-inch, oven-ready Ribs of Beef.

The excess Short Ribs are removed and sold at a lower price.

We remove the feather (back) bones for easier carving and cover the area with a thin layer of fat to protect the meat.

We remove the excess wasteful chine bone.

Is all this trimming important to you?

Well, on an average five-rib roast, we trim up to 1 1/4 lbs. of excess fat and bone. At Rib Roast prices, that adds up!

One more thing.

We cut our Rib Roasts only from the first five ribs.

All this makes our Rib Roast truly the "King of Roasts" and a joy to carve.

Next time you buy a Rib Roast, think about these things.

And then think, shouldn't A&P be your store?

Economic conditions aid PFF progress

Improved economic conditions during the past year enabled Pomona First Federal Savings and Loan Association to increase its assets by more than 6-1/2% over 1966, according to the association's annual report.

President Paul D. Walker told the association's board of directors Tuesday that Pomona First Federal's total assets jumped from $183,920,244.34 to $196,029,913.04, an all-time high.

He said the two figures include $19,710,195.40 of loans sold in participation with other associations during the past three years.

Walker said approximately $1 million was added to the record amount through a gain in savings deposits during the first 10 days in January.

Improvements on virtually all fronts were reported over 1966. The Association added $377,298 to its undivided profits and $183,828 to its general reserves. Those figures now stand at $2,420,419 and $8,372,418, respectively.

During the year 1967, $7,174,003.67 was paid in dividends to savings customers. This represented an increase of $564,568.79 over the total dividends paid in the year 1966.

Largely responsible for the growth was a $14 million increase in savings accounts which enabled the association to reduce its advances from the Federal Home Loan Bank from $17,937,875 to $15,200,000.

The lending picture also showed a substantial improvement during the year. The association made 1,515 new loans during 1967 amounting to $26,940,662, compared with 1238 loans worth $15,423,242 the year before.

More than $177 million of the money in the association was out on loans at the end of 1967, Walker said, which includes $3 million worth of loans in process to build homes in various areas the association serves.

Estimated federal income tax for 1967 is $98,777, compared with $69,573 paid on 1966 profits, according to the report.

Walker said the association was still actively in the market of lending money on prime property purchases and improvements.

Pomona First Federal Savings operates three offices in Pomona and one each in Claremont, San Dimas, Upland, Chino and Yucca Valley.

FREE CONCERT, second in the series sponsored and paid for by the Montclair Recreation Department, will feature the famed Lola Montes Spanish Dancers, at 8:15 p.m., Thursday, Jan. 25, at Montclair High School Auditorium, 4725 Benito St. The "programs for the people" series will continue with three additional attractions this season.

Meetings will be held Sunday at 10 a.m. in the Stake Center, 11th St. and San An-

Bishop Victor Brown, 126 E. Princeton, Ontario, says visitors are welcome.

NOS to give chance to non-pro talent

Non-professional talent with a hankering to get in front of the footlights will get the chance at the 1968 National Orange Show in San Bernardino, March 7-17.

The best in new sound Southern California combos will be spotlighted in the "Battle of the Bands" competition said Gordon Wheatley, the exposition's special events director. This all-day, every-day event will be presented from a special stage with trophies, cash prizes and additional awards including a possible recording contract going to winners.

Information and application forms may be secured by writing: Special Events Director, National Orange Show, 689 So. E St., San Bernardino 92408, or by phoning (714) 885-0201. Applications must be returned by Feb. 2, 1968.

Unions approve sharing revision

Members of Locals 2869 and 3677 of the United Steelworkers Union at Fontana, voted in favor of continuing the Kaiser Steel-United Steelworkers of America Long Range Sharing Plan for another four years. It was announced today by officials of the company and the union.

The vote to continue the sharing plan came after several months of negotiations. The major changes in the plan are:

1. Elimination of the wage and benefit reserve which had deducted the cost of industry negotiated wages and benefits from the employees' share.
2. Former incentive employees now have the option of remaining on the plant-wide sharing plan or returning to their former unit incentives. The decision will be made by employees after nine months of experience on the new plan.

Final tabulations show 3,293 voting in favor of retaining the plan and 1,763 against.

The new plan becomes effective Feb. 1, 1968 with a retroactive payment from Oct. 1, 1967.

"The large vote and the overwhelming support of the plan by union members are compliments to both the union and management representatives who worked out the improvements of this plan," said G. E. Bales, vice president, industrial relations, for Kaiser.

"The continuation of the sharing plan reaffirms our belief that innovative free collective bargaining provides the best method of attaining labor management stability."

The Gas Company supplied its nearly 3,000,000 customers with enough equivalent energy to launch 131 Apollo missions to the moon—each and every day of 1967. That's a lot of energy. Yet there has never been a time when residents in this area had to wait for gas service.

If you've always been a Southern Californian, that statement won't strike you as unusual. But many people from other parts of the country do think it's unusual. And when they move here they're glad we've worked hard to stay ahead of the rapidly increasing need for natural gas.

We're an investor-owned company, state regulated. And we're always looking ahead, planning ahead. That's the way we do business.

More gas is being used in Southern California for a variety of reasons...from broiling hamburgers to air conditioning office buildings...to consumption by industry including electric generating customers who want to burn natural gas to help in the fight against air pollution. Gas is the number one source of energy in Southern California.

We're investor-owned. That's why we take that "extra step" to meet the growing needs of our customers, large and small. Keeping you satisfied is our number one job.

Radio-TV apprentice program approved

An apprenticeship program in radio-television repair was approved for the spring semester by the Chaffey College board of trustees.

The program was proposed by the apprenticeship committee for radio-television repair, comprising representatives from the industry.

Involved at the outset will be about 10 students, some already employed in the specialty and others seeking to qualify for employment.

Students will be working in shops in district communities as well as Claremont, Azusa, Pomona, Covina, Arcadia, El Monte and Hacienda Heights.

About 50 radio-television dealers and repair shop owners make up the committee and each member is eligible to hire apprentices by participating in the program.

Chaffey College coordinator of the program is Carroll S. Price, assistant dean of instruction.

Training program opened to minors

Chaffey College trustees took action last week to make the Inland Empire Training Project for the hard core unemployed open to minors. In recommending the action, college president Harry D. Wiser reported that the project is geared to an optimum participation of 40 trainees and can even handle as many as 75.

Dr. Wiser told the board that 22 adults were presently enrolled in the three training sessions that started last Monday in the Chaffey hangar at Ontario International Airport.

"It is anticipated that classes will fill in the space of two weeks," Dr. Wiser said. He pointed out that the State Education Code states that such classes shall be open to such minors as well as adults as the governing board deems qualified for admission.

A basic qualification would mean "heads of families who can profit from instruction," Dr. Wiser emphasized.

Students in the project, which is cross-funded by a number of Federal agencies, are certified for admission by the State Departments of Welfare and Employment.

Under the direction of Chaffey's Fred O. Felsch, the three classes and their instructors are Auto Body Repair, Paul J. Simpson; Auto Mechanics, Gordon Mills, Machine Shop Operators, Fred Miller.

A fourth course, supplementing the vocational training aspect of the program, is Basic Education, with Mrs. Evelyn Seaman serving as the instructor.

At a previous board session, Dr. Wiser said that "the objective of the program is to salvage the potentially employable who would otherwise look to welfare for support."

In the event of later expansion, the college will consider broadening the program to training household appliance repairmen, groundsman gardeners and nurse's aides.

Seven other colleges in San Bernardino and Riverside counties are involved in the government financed training program. Funds apportioned for Chaffey's TE-

TP role are $180,917.

Two representatives from the Field Service Center, University of California, Berkeley, gave the board a preliminary report on administrative organization at Chaffey College. The college retained the agency to make such a survey as a follow-through on the last accreditation review.

The preliminary report proposed guidelines for improved communication between board, administrative staff, faculty and students and broader involvement in academic planning and policy making.

The representatives, Dr. Harry McPherson and Dr. Richard Gott, indicated that suggested changes in organization and assignments are projected on the basis of growth.

Their report recommended that the organization from the office of superintendent-president down be structured with a second campus in mind.

Specified were the creation of the positions of two vice presidents, one for instruction and the other for student affairs, with their offices coordinating the functions of a variety of deans.

These executives reporting to the chief administrator as president would give him more opportunity to function as a superintendent as the college expands, according to the report.

The position of assistant superintendent remains in its present place in the structure but centralized as a district office when Chaffey goes to a second campus.

The preliminary report was presented to the Faculty Senate and the College Council prior to the board meeting.

The final report will be available in time for the next board session, Feb. 20.

Considered also by the board was Dr. Wiser's proposal for the formation of a citizens advisory committee. The membership would be representative of "areas and interests served by Chaffey College," Dr. Wiser said.

The purpose of such a committee would be to create a liaison with the community in recommending educational programs and

Automobile registration Can be concealed now

State officials today reminded California motorists that it is no longer necessary to visibly display a vehicle registration card in the vehicle for which issued.

Recognizing that even a services provided by the college.

The office of instruction reported that 28 students are now enrolled in a Chaffey-implemented class in sewing machine operation in China which started Jan. 2.

locked car only partly protects its owner if his name and address are exposed to view, Highway Patrol Commissioner H. W. Sullivan and State Director of Motor Vehicles Verne Orr jointly encouraged motorists not to strap a registration card to the steering wheel, clip it to the sun visor, or similarly make it visible.

"Our legislators changed the law last year," said Orr, "in response to pleas from citizens whose homes were broken into while their cars were parked at airports, signalling the likelihood that the owner was out of town. They also recognized the plight of women whose display of an address invited molestation."

Vehicle owners can protect themselves by keeping identifying documents out of public view inside their vehicles. However, the law still requires that the registration card be carried with the vehicle and shown to a peace officer on demand.

H. Smith promoted by Kaiser

Herbert M. Smith of Upland has been appointed superintendent, Maintenance and Services, Tin Mill, at Kaiser Steel Corporation's Fontana plant. It was announced by M.J. Smith, plant general superintendent.

Smith started with Kaiser Steel in 1960 as general foreman of the Machine Shop, and a year later was named general mechanical foreman for the Tin Mill. Three chief factors to accelerate economic pace in Valley in '68

Three dominant factors will accelerate the pace of economic development in the Pomona Valley - West End region during 1968, the quarterly review of the Inland Bank predicted recently.

Listed in the study, made public by President Wilson H. Asdel and prepared by Claremont Economist Dr. Gerhard N. Rostvold, in sequential order were:

1. Development of Ontario International Airport as a major satellite of Los Angeles International Airport, with a $20 million improvement program underway.

2. Extension of the Pomona Freeway, which has already served to open up 4,600 acres of vacant industrial land in the City of Industry, and

3. Opening of the new 900,000 square foot $50 million Montclair Plaza Regional Shopping Center.

Construction activity and home building were seen by Dr. Rostvold as continuing at a normal rate with continued upward pressure on the interest rate structure.

The bank review said that the year 1967 will go into the record books as a year of excellent performance for the Pomona Valley economy.

Despite tight money conditions and the relatively low pace of housing construction activity, the overall levels of population, income, employment and retail sales all showed an increase.

The leading economic event of the year, the Bank said, was the merger of Ontario International Airport with Los Angeles International, with many direct economic effects which will add positive thrust to the economy in 1968 and beyond.

The thrust will include primary inducement for a new industrial location which a major airport facility with a full schedule of service creates. The 10 million improvement or planned Los Angeles will be a second factor. The third will be the convenient and economical access to an airport which the merger will provide for the three million persons living in San Bernardino and Riverside Counties and the residents of East Los Angeles County.

"Clearly," said the review, "an enhanced schedule of service from OIA will generate significant economic activity in the service area, eq., automobile rentals, gasoline sales, etc."

One hundred thousand more passengers used airline facilities at OIA in 1967 than in 1966. During 1967, 328,881 persons departed from or arrived at the airport, compared with 225,064 in 1966. Seven years ago, in 1960, total passenger traffic at OIA was only 23,127.

Dr. Rostvold saw a significant future impact on the employment of the Pomona Valley in the continuing expansion of the freeway system which provides a key linkage between the Valley's economy and the rest of the expanding Southern California area.

"Accelerated development of the Pomona Valley Freeway System is an absolute prerequisite to sustained economic growth," said the economist.

The Pomona Freeway is now in final stages of completion. Construction of the Foothill Freeway is well under way. The Orange Freeway through Brea Canyon has been approved, and when completed, will give Pomona Valley the greatest freeway access of any state area except for such large centers as Los Angeles.

The Montclair Center, now under construction for August, 1968, completion at Central Ave. and San Bernardino freeway, will include three major department stores - J. C. Penny, May Co., and the Broadway - and 60 other small retail outlets, the Inland Bank review said.

It will give employment to some 3,000 persons at the point of full operation and generate about $40 million in taxable retail sales during its first year.

"The Montclair Plaza will unquestionably produce significant shifts in the pattern of commerce," Dr. Rostvold pointed out.

Teaching assisting class set

Chaffey College announced that it will offer a new course, Introduction to Teacher Assisting, in the spring semester.

The program is designed to train students for employment as aides to teachers in the classroom. Assignments may include nursery school, kindergarten, special classes or regular classrooms in the elementary or secondary schools.

The new course represents a coordinated effort by both the college and elementary school administrators.

It is scheduled for Tuesdays, 4:30-6:30, starting Feb. 6, in Ontario-Montclair School District Federal Projects Center.

The instructor will be Federal Projects Center director Clark Lewis. Lewis, former principal of Vina Danks Junior High School, teaches also at LaVerne College. He has been identified with the Ontario-Montclair School District for the past 30 years.

Students may register at Chaffey for the course through Jan. 31 or at the first class session.

'Know thyself' talk given Kaiser club

Upland Inn was the scene of the January dinner meeting of the Kaiser Fabricating Management Club of the Kaiser Steel Corp.

Dick Waysack, president of the club, presided, and introduced the speaker of the evening, Melvin J. Slater, who spoke on the subject "Know Thyself".

Slater, president of Management Services, Ft. Wayne, Ind., is sponsored by the National Management Association as a featured speaker. He possesses wide experience as an engineer, writer, commentator and humorist.

Tom Read, manager, structural fabrication division gave a talk on current operations and future plans for the division.

A motion picture, "Manager Wanted", was presented as a feature to close the evening.

Tom Chiverton, chairman, Education Committee, Kaiser Fab Management Club, has announced the start of a Management Training course for club members, entitled "Principles of Management".

Course instructors will be R. E. Dixon, R. W. Maxwell, R. F. Read, L. W. Beck, and A. J. Robertson. The course will consist of ten sessions covering the phases of planning, organizing, controlling and motivating for the professional manager.

Membership in the National Management Association has passed an all time high membership mark of 85,677 for the first time in its 42 year history. The Association began in 1925 with 3300 members.

The N.M.A. has been a factor in the development of the American Manager since that time, and it continues to keep pace with, or strives to stay ahead of, the rapidly changing and advancing U.S. Industrial scene in management training.

Nader address postponed

A Ralph Nader convocation at Chaffey College, originally slated for Feb. 15, has been deferred until May 14.

Nader's topic will be "My War With Detroit." This attorney is the author of "Unsafe at Any Speed." His book charges manufacturers with producing hazardous motor vehicles.

More recently he has accused automobile manufacturers of renegeing on their homework in connection with air pollution.

YMCA celebrating its 'week' Jan. 21-28

The Ontario-Upland YMCA which serves the West End, along with over 3,000 YMCA's throughout the United States and Canada are celebrating YMCA week, Jan. 21 to 28, according to Don Wight, YMCA president.

The local 'Y' places special emphasis on programs for the whole family with special emphasis on teenage youth groups, summer camping, and outpost programs in such needy areas as Los Serranos, Chino, and North Town, Cucamonga, Wight said.

During the past year, 800 fathers and sons participated in a 'Y' Indian Guide program, consisting of Indian lore, camping and crafts. Three hundred boys participated in gym and skills programs including wrestling, gymnastics, basketball, archery and other sports.

Two hundred forty-three women slimmed down in a women's slimnastics program. Eight-five men conditioned themselves in a men's conditioning class and noon volleyball programs. Others participated in basketball leagues and club programs.

Gil Butt is 'Y' Indian Guide Longhouse Chief and Dr. Irving Goldhamer is the Physical Education Committee Chairman. Evron M. Karges is the Building Program Secretary. Mary Killinger and Bernice Wolfe are directors of the women's slimnastics class. Jim Patzold, the boy's gym program, and Dave Whitmer, a physical education special, and Jack Frost, Cal Poly coach and Director of the Men's program.

Mary Ellen Sellers, who is in charge of the boys gymnastic program, won awards for two years as Best All Around Girl in Pacific Southwest Area Gymnastics Championships. John Yi, Judo instructor, won his black belt in Japan.

Over one thousand boys and girls were enrolled in YMCA summer resident and day camps. This is the largest summer program the local 'Y' has ever had according to Chuck Linck, Youth Committee Chairman.

Special programs were conducted in Cucamonga with the help of the Assistance League and Cucamonga School enrolling 85 boys and a program has been inaugurated in Los Serranos. Chino enrolled over 50 boys. Al McCombs and Dan Bruno are on a committee drawing up this Chino extension.

One of the important programs the local 'Y' conducts is a high school age club program, enrolling 600 high school students.

Leadership for the 40 H-Y groups comes from volunteer adult advisors and elected officers. The 'Y' Council under the leadership of president John Johnson, coordinates and supervises club activities. Dick Babington, Associate Executive Director of the 'Y' and Mrs. DeAnn Koustik, Tri-H-Y Supervisor, supervise all club and council activities.

The new YMCA building has been used by over 5000 people a month in its first year of operation. Robert Jennings is the Executive Director of the YMCA.

Adult service clubs of the YMCA are the Y's Men and Y's Menettes clubs. Darrel Baird is president of the Y's Men club and Mrs. Monahan is president of the Y's Menettes.

Y-Week program events include Sunday, Jan. 28, 'Y' Day in Church; Saturday, Jan. 27, H-Y - Tri-H-Y Club Youth in Government spaghetti dinner; Monday, Jan. 29, YMCA industrial night - bosses night dinner with Gerhard Rostvold.

Talks in service clubs along with the nationally produced YMCA movie "Challenge" will also be held during the week.

Economist to speak at YMCA

Dr. Gerhard Rostvold, consulting economist and founder of Urbanomic Research Associates, Claremont will talk to the YMCA Industrial Management Club annual Bosses Night Dinner Monday, Jan. 29 at 6:30 p.m.

Dr. Rostvold is a specialist in Regional and Urban Economic Growth and Business Cycle Analysis. He is an Author, Lecturer, and has taught at both Stanford University, and Pomona College.

He will talk on the subject of "Economic Trends 1968," especially as they affect the West End. Another feature of the dinner will be a Project Demonstration by Otis Elevator Co.

To prevent sticking and jamming of door locks that must operate in corrosive atmospheres, cylinders of high-quality locks are made from a copper-nickel alloy.

Artists invited to display work

Modern and traditional artists throughout the state are invited to participate in the annual All-California Art Exhibition being featured at the 1968 National Orange Show in San Bernardino, March 7-17.

A total of $2,100 in cash awards has been earmarked for exhibiting artists with $200 each going to the best oil in both the modern and traditional classifications; $100 each for second place awards and $25 each for third.

The same cash awards will be presented to winners in both the modern and traditional watercolors. Best modern and traditional sculpturing, according to the jury, will each receive a $200 award with $50 going to each of the second place winners. Honorable mention awards in each of the six divisions will be special ribbons.

The citrus exposition's All-California Art Exhibition has long been considered an outstanding event attracting artists from throughout the entire state. Jack G. Allen, San Bernardino business man and an artist in his own right, is heading up the art exhibition committee for the third consecutive year.

All work submitted, according to Chairman Allen, must be original, painted within the last two years by an artist currently residing in the state of California. Only one entry per person may be submitted.

Brochures with entry forms and complete information may be secured by writing All California Art Exhibition, National Orange Show, 689 So. E. St., San Bernardino, Calif. 92408. Deadline for delivery of art work with entry forms is Feb. 10, 1968.
